

The library will resume normal opening hours from Monday 6th July

We will be open and staffed from Monday to Friday, 9am – 5pm.

Due to social distancing, we've had to make a few changes to services and facilities, so please note:

- Some PCs and chairs have been removed to maintain social distancing. Please continue to observe social distancing in the library and wear a face mask when entering the building.
- We've provided cleaning wipes around the library, so please remember to wipe down your PC/keyboard/mouse/desk before and after use.
- We are encouraging everyone to use the self-service unit for borrowing and returning books; you will need your library card for borrowing. If you haven't got a card, please contact us so we can give you your membership number to use instead.
- The library is now cashless. We can accept contactless payments with a minimum spend of £1, so if you need to do any personal printing or purchase any sale books, please build up the amount to more than £1 before paying by card.
- Room bookings are now available, but maximum participant numbers have been reduced: the meeting room limit is now 4 people, and the training room limit is 6 people.
